By Car

Wherever you are coming from, follow the signs to the B-10 Ronda Litoral that runs along the coast.

If you are coming from France, take Exit 21, "Ciutat Vella," and turn right on Plaza de la Carbonera. Keep to the right until you merge onto Avinguda del Paral·lel. After about 500 meters, turn right on Nou de la Rambla and go another 500 meters. On your left, Hotel Gaudí awaits you.

If you are coming from Madrid or Valencia, take the same Exit 21 "Ciutat Vella" and you will end up on the street that takes you to the Columbus Monument. About 200 meters before the monument you will see the Plaza de La Carbonera roundabout; from this point, follow the directions from the previous paragraph.

By Train

From Sants station, take the green line (L3) from Metro to the "Liceu" stop. Exit at Las Ramblas and walk toward the sea for 200 meters. Turn right on the street Nou de la Rambla and, soon after, you will find Hotel Gaudí on your right.

As an alternative, you can also take a taxi; the distance is only 3 km

Avión

Barcelona's El Prat airport is 12km away. To get to Hotel Gaudí, take the train that runs from the airport to Sants station. Once there, take the green line (L3) from Metro and follow the directions indicated under "By Train." You can also take a bus from the airport to Plaça Catalunya. Once in the plaza, you can decide whether to take a taxi or walk about 700m on Las Ramblas to reach Nou de la Rambla street, where Hotel Gaudí awaits you.
